In our Integration Agreement it states all pupils are organised so that day pupils, as far as possible, share the advantages offered to boarding pupils.

Day girls are valued members of the Nga Tawa school family, and we want them to enjoy the advantages of Nga Tawa's boarding school culture, traditions and special character, it is therefore only equitable that the day students contribute to the overall costs. We therefore offer the following goods and services:

Meals

At Nga Tawa, the sharing of the mid-day meal around the table by day girls, boarders and staff is seen as part of the Special Character of the School. It acts as a unifier for the whole school family, and the Dining Room is a place of community and the Board wish for all Day Girls to be included and participate. Nga Tawa provides a delicious nutritious lunch with a wide selection of choices. The charge also includes morning and afternoon tea, boarding and after school sports snacks, a packed lunch or meal money for lunch and dinner on school trips and sports events. Special school celebration meals such as Founders Day and Graduation Dinner are also included.

(House or Year Level Dinners are not included).

Participation in the Boarding Houses – Additional Supervision

It is also important that Day Girls feel included in the boarding environment during the hours that they are at school. This means they can join the boarders in the year level common rooms during specified hours. The charge below contributes to staffing in the boarding houses during after school hours. It also gives them access to the significant pastoral care system that is funded by the Nga Tawa Diocesan Trust Board.

The school also provides the service of a home account for day girls which means school items, private lessons, stationery, school trips etc can be charged to the home account and be paid once per month rather than having to pay item by item in advance.
