5. Definitions

5.1 For the purposes of this policy the following definitions apply:

Abuse For the purpose of this policy, abuse includes harm (whether physically, emotionally or sexually), deprivation, ill-treatment, or neglect of Tamariki. It can involve ongoing, repeated or persistent abuse, or may arise from a single incident. Child Abuse may take many forms, but it can be categorised into four different types: Physical Abuse; Sexual Abuse; Emotional Abuse and Neglect.

Young person: Child means any person under the age of 18 years.

Lead Person for Child Protection is a person within the workplace who is responsible for the safeguarding of children. This person is responsible for ensuring that child protection is a key focus within Nga Tawa both at a strategic level and on a day-to-day basis.

Oranga Tamariki: formally known as Child Youth and Family. Oranga Tamariki is a Government Ministry dedicated to supporting children in New Zealand whose wellbeing is at significant risk of harm now, or in the future.

Emotional Abuse is the persistent emotional ill treatment of a child such as to cause severe and persistent adverse effects on the child's self-esteem and emotional development. This can include a pattern of rejecting, degrading, ignoring, isolating, corrupting, exploiting or terrorising a child. It may also include age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children and their social competence undermined or eroded over time. A child can also experience emotional abuse by being exposed to a dysfunctional environment which includes seeing or hearing the ill treatment of others, including but not limited to being exposed to domestic violence.

Neglect is characterised as the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological need. This can occur through direct and deliberate action or by omission or deliberate inaction to care for and/or protect the child. It may also include neglect of a child's basic or emotional needs.

Physical Abuse is a non-accidental act that results in physical harm. This includes, but is not limited to, beating, hitting, shaking, burning, drowning, suffocating biting, poisoning or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical abuse also involves the fabrication or inducing of illness.

Sexual Abuse is an act or acts that result in the sexual exploitation of a child, whether consensual or not. Sexual abuse can be committed by a relative, a trusted friend, an associate, or someone unknown to the child. Sexual abuse includes situations where the adult seeks to have the child touch them for a sexual purpose, and where they involve the child in pornographic activities or prostitution.

Family Violence can take many forms and may include, but is not limited to, actual physical violence (to a person, pet or property), threats of physical violence (to a person, pet or property), psychological, economic or sexual abuse. Children are always affected either emotionally or physically where there is family violence even if they are not personally injured or physically present.

SECTION THREE: Child Protection Procedures

The procedures set out in section three of this policy provide staff guidelines to assist in identifying and responding appropriately to concerns of abuse and neglect, and to understand their role in keeping children safe. The procedures set out below will help staff with:

- The identification of abuse.
- Handling disclosures, whether verbal or behavioural, from a child.
- Reporting procedures.

10. Identification of Abuse

10.1 Any member of staff may directly witness child abuse or have allegations, made by a child or an adult, relayed to them. There may also be disclosures of abuse that have occurred prior to attending Nga Tawa. Sustained abuse and neglect of children, wherever it occurs, can have major long-term effects on all aspects of children's health, development and well-being and their ability to sustain stable and meaningful relationships in the future.

10.2 Staff should be alert and aware of the fact that child abuse can occur in many different settings and forms and may come to light in a variety of different ways. These can include, but are not limited to:

- Direct or indirect disclosure by the child.
- Direct or indirect disclosure from someone known to the child.
- Suspicions of abuse by those involved with the child.
- Allegations and/or direct observations or signs displayed in the child's physical or emotional behaviour.
- Direct witnessing of abuse.

10.3 The signs and indicators of abuse to a child may not be immediately obvious or identifiable. Appendix One of this policy sets out a non-exhaustive list of signs and indicators to help identify abuse.

10.4 If a member of staff is unsure if they ought to report an incident or if they are unsure about what might constitute child abuse, they should ask for advice and guidance from the Lead Person for Child Protection. If the Lead Person for Child Protection is unavailable for advice and guidance, then staff should consult with the Principal. At any time, staff may seek advice from Oranga Tamariki (0508 326 459) regarding child protection concerns.

11. Responding to Allegations

11.1 Everything must be done to ensure the ongoing safety of the child or young person concerned, along with the ongoing safety of any other child who is in close connection to the alleged offender. The young person is the primary concern, and all other concerns (including the guilt or innocence of the alleged offender) must be secondary. This does not mean that the alleged offender is to be considered guilty without due investigation, but that the child's concerns, and safety, come first. In no way must any child be left in a harmful, or potentially harmful, situation.

12. Handling of Disclosures from a Child

12.1 Disclosure of abuse may come directly from the child. In such circumstances it is important to respond in a calm, caring and sensitive manner. It is important that staff take what the child says seriously. This applies irrespective of the setting, or the member of staff's own opinion on what the child is saying. The child is never to blame in situations of abuse and should be reassured they have done nothing wrong, either in relation to the abuse itself or in reporting it.

12.2 Children need to know that staff are listening and taking seriously the information divulged. Children need staff to respond positively to ensure their future protection. It is important to record what is said at the time, if appropriate, or as soon as possible following the disclosure. It may not be appropriate to enquire into further details at this stage. The child also needs information and an explanation of what will, or is likely to, happen next.

12.3 If a child discloses information regarding actual or suspected child abuse staff must:

- Stay calm.
- Listen and hear.
- Give time to the child to say what they want.
- Reassure them that it was right to tell.
- Tell the child that they are being taken seriously and that they are not to blame.
- Explain that they have to pass on what the child has told them as soon as they are aware that the child is making a disclosure.
- Give an age-appropriate explanation to the child of what the child can expect to happen next.
- Record in writing what was said as soon as possible, using the child's own words where possible.

12.4 Staff must not:

- Make the child repeat the story unnecessarily.
- Promise to keep secrets.
- Enquire into the details of the alleged abuse.
- Ask leading questions.

12.5 Under no circumstances should a member of staff attempt to conduct an investigation or deal with concerns of abuse by themselves.

13. Child-on-Child Harmful Behaviours

13.1 It is important to be aware that children can harm other children. These behaviours are outside of what may be considered the normal range, and can extend to bullying, violence or sexual assault. Therefore, when a child alleges inappropriate harmful behaviour by another child then the child protection procedures outlined in this policy must be considered for both the children.

14. Suicidal Concerns of Self-Harm Behaviours

14.1 It is important to be aware that young persons can harm themselves or attempt suicide. When a child identifies thoughts of suicide, or self-harming behaviour, this must be taken seriously and the Director of Wellbeing notified immediately. If an immediate response is required to ensure the child's safety, contact:

Maternal, Infant, Child and Adolescent Mental and Addiction Service (MICAMHAS) Whanganui 0800 653 358.

14.2 If a staff member is aware of suicide or self-harm risk, please refer to the relevant procedure stored All Staff Teams -Child Protection.

SECTION FOUR: Reporting Procedures

15. Child Protection Procedures

15.1 All concerns of potential, suspected or alleged abuse must be brought to the attention of the Lead Person for Child Protection. If the Lead Person is unavailable, then consultation should occur with the Principal. A decision will be made as to whether to notify Oranga Tamariki. If an immediate response is required to ensure the child's safety, staff should contact Oranga Tamariki and/or the NZ Police directly.

15.2 If a student makes a verbal disclosure to a member of staff it is important that staff take what the student says seriously.

15.3 Staff are to listen carefully to what the student is saying and are not to interview them or ask too many questions, ask the very basics i.e. who/when? Never promise confidentiality to a student.

15.4 Once the basics have been ascertained no further questions are to be asked. What the student has said is to be documented. Effective documentation, including referrals and notifications, must include:

- A record of facts, including observations, with times and dates.
- What was said and by whom, using the person's words.
- What action has been taken, by whom and when.

15.5 Without further discussion with any person the documented information will be passed on to the Lead Person for Child Protection as soon as possible.

15.6 The Lead Person will consult with the nominated staff member and advise Oranga Tamariki and, if applicable, the Police promptly when a disclosure is made.

15.7 Deciding when and who will inform the parent(s) and/or caregiver will be determined by Oranga Tamariki and Police in consultation with the school.

15.8 All decisions, including if the concern does not require notifying Oranga Tamariki or the Police, must be recorded in writing and kept securely in a Child Protection file with the reasons clearly identified and explained.

16. Keeping the Child's Family Informed and Involved

16.1 Although the parent or caregiver of the child will usually be informed of concerns, there may be times when those with parental responsibility may not be initially informed. This will be agreed with the lead person and principals' agreement and may happen when:

- The parent or caregiver is the alleged offender.
- It is possible that the child may be intimidated into silence.
- There is a strong likelihood that evidence will be destroyed
- The child does not want their parent or caregiver involved and they are of an age when they are competent to make that decision.

17. Confidentiality and Information Sharing

17.1 The safety of a child is paramount. At times a child is unable to speak for or protect themselves. Therefore, Nga Tawa has a greater responsibility to know when and how to share appropriate information with external agencies to protect the safety and wellbeing of children.

17.2 Under the Privacy Act 2020, the giving of information to protect children is not a breach of confidentiality. Wherever possible the family/whanau should be kept informed of what information has been shared and to which agency, and for what purpose.

17.3 Under the Oranga Tamariki Act 1989, if a member of staff raises a legitimate concern in good faith about suspected child abuse, which proves to be unfounded on investigation, no civil, criminal or disciplinary proceedings may be brought against that staff member.

17.4 Should Nga Tawa be contacted with a request for information or access to interview a child then the following procedure will be followed:

- Confirm identity and credentials of person requesting information.
- Notify the Principal and the Lead Person for Child Protection.
- Identify specific information required and purpose.
- Check that Nga Tawa holds the information requested.
- The Principal is to identify a way forward and provide permission to share information.
- Depending on the reason for the request, and risk to children as judged case by case, inform the family/whanau that information has been requested, by whom and seek permission. If this is a child protection issue, permission from the family/whanau is not required.
- Document all steps in the process. Ensure that all documentation is placed on the child's child protection file.

SECTION FIVE: Staff Recruitment & Training

18. Safe Recruitment of Staff

18.1 Nga Tawa is committed to applying employment and selection processes which emphasise the importance of child protection, regardless of whether this position is paid or voluntary, permanent, part time or casual.

18.2 All appointments will be conditional on the completion and outcome of safety checks, including a Police check.

19. Child Protection Training of Staff

19.1 All staff will receive child protection training at the level appropriate to their role. All staff and volunteers who work with, or who have contact in the course of their work with, children will be given appropriate training covering basic awareness of child protection. This will include an overview of signs and indicators of abuse, as well as the procedure for responding to actual or suspected abuse. This training will include:

- Roles and responsibility of staff regarding child protection.
- Recognising and responding to the signs and indicators of actual or suspected abuse.
- Ensuring staff receive a copy this Policy, can understand it, and can follow the Procedures for reporting a concern.

19.2 All new staff will receive child protection training, and will be given a copy of this policy, as part of the induction process.

19.3 All other staff, including the Lead Person for Child Protection, will receive updated child protection training every three years as a minimum.

SECTION SIX: Safe Working Practices

20. Safe Working Practices

All staff are expected to behave in a manner consistent with the Nga Tawa Code of Conduct.

20.1 Relationship between an adult and a young person cannot be a relationship between equals. There is a potential for exploitation and harm of vulnerable young people. Adults have a responsibility to ensure that an unequal balance of power is not used for personal advantage or gratification.

20.2 Staff should always maintain appropriate professional boundaries and avoid behaviour which might be misinterpreted by others. Staff who work with young people must therefore act in a way that is considered to be safe practice.

20.3 It is imperative that in all dealings with young persons, a balance is struck between the rights of the child and the need for intervention. When physical contact is made with a child this should be in response to their needs at the time, of limited duration and appropriate to their age, stage of development, gender, ethnicity and background. Staff should always use their professional judgement, observe and take note of the child's reaction or feelings and use a level of contact and/or form of communication which is acceptable to the child or young person for the minimum amount of time necessary.

20.4 Communication between children and adults, by whatever method, should take place within clear and explicit professional boundaries. This includes the wider use of technology such as mobile phone, text messaging, emails, digital cameras, videos, webcams, websites, social networking and blogs. Staff should not share any personal information with a child or young person. They should not request, or respond to, any personal information from the child other than that which might be appropriate as part of their professional role. Staff should ensure that all communications are transparent and open to scrutiny.

20.5 Any sexual activity between staff and a child will be regarded as a criminal offence and will always be a matter for disciplinary action.

SECTION SEVEN: Allegations Against Members of Staff

21. Dealing with Allegations Against Staff

Any internal disciplinary investigation should be conducted separately from Section Six of this policy. Any internal disciplinary action should not contradict Section Six of this policy

21.1 Nga Tawa has a duty of care to the young persons it provides services to. A failure to report a significant concern about a child is a breach of that child's human rights.

21.2 Allegations, suspicions, or complaints of abuse against staff, volunteers, or representatives of other agencies must be taken seriously and reported to the Principal who will deal with them immediately, sensitively, and expediently within the procedures outlined in this Section.

21.3 It is not the responsibility of the staff to investigate allegations of child abuse.

21.4 If the Police decide to undertake a criminal investigation, then the member of staff may be suspended, without prejudice, as a precautionary measure. It is important that no internal investigation is undertaken and no evidence gathered that might prejudice the criminal investigation.

21.5 All staff have a responsibility to understand what constitutes appropriate behaviour in relation to children. All staff have a responsibility to maintain appropriate standards of behaviour and to report lapses in these standards by others.

21.6 Anyone who has reason to make a complaint will be made aware of the Nga Tawa complaint process. There is potential that an issue raised as a complaint may also constitute an allegation of abuse. Any such complaint that raises a child protection issue will be referred directly to the Principal.

21.7 Making a disclosure or a complaint against someone in a position of power and authority is difficult and it must be clearly communicated with the complainant, whether that be the young person themselves, a member of staff, or any other person, that their concern is being taken seriously and will be responded to in accordance with this policy

21.8 Allegations, suspicions or complaints of abuse against staff, volunteers or representatives of other agencies must be taken seriously and reported to the Principal who will deal with them immediately, sensitively and expediently within the procedures outlined in this policy. Concerns may be raised a number of ways e.g.:

- Directly by staff hearing or observing issues of concern or behaviour of concern.
- Direct disclosure by the child.
- Indirect disclosure e.g. through written or artwork or through friends.
- Complaint from a parent or caregiver or whanau member.
- Reports by other colleagues or agencies.
- As an anonymous report.

21.9 If the allegation is against the Principal, then this must be reported directly to the Chair of the Board of Trustees.

21.10 It is NOT the responsibility of staff to investigate allegations of child abuse. Allegations against staff will be discussed with the Board of Trustees where a decision will be made if a notification to Oranga Tamariki and/or the Police is appropriate. All concerns or allegations of sexual abuse must be reported to Oranga Tamariki and /or the NZ Police.

21.11 In all child protection cases Nga Tawa will co-operate fully with both Oranga Tamariki and the Police in their investigations and assessments.

21.12 If the Police decide to undertake a criminal investigation, then the member of staff may be suspended. It is important that no internal investigation is undertaken, and no evidence gathered that might prejudice an official Police or Oranga Tamariki investigation.

21.13 Even if there is insufficient evidence to pursue a criminal prosecution, then an internal disciplinary investigation may still be undertaken subject to internal disciplinary procedures.

21.14 Where the allegation is against a teacher the school will advise the Education Council of Aotearoa New Zealand (EDUCANZ) as per Section 394, Education Act 1989 – Mandatory reporting of possible serious misconduct as soon as possible.

21.15 A person tendering his or her resignation, or ceasing to provide their services, will not prevent an allegation of abuse against a child being followed up in accordance with these procedures.

REVIEW AND COMPLIANCE

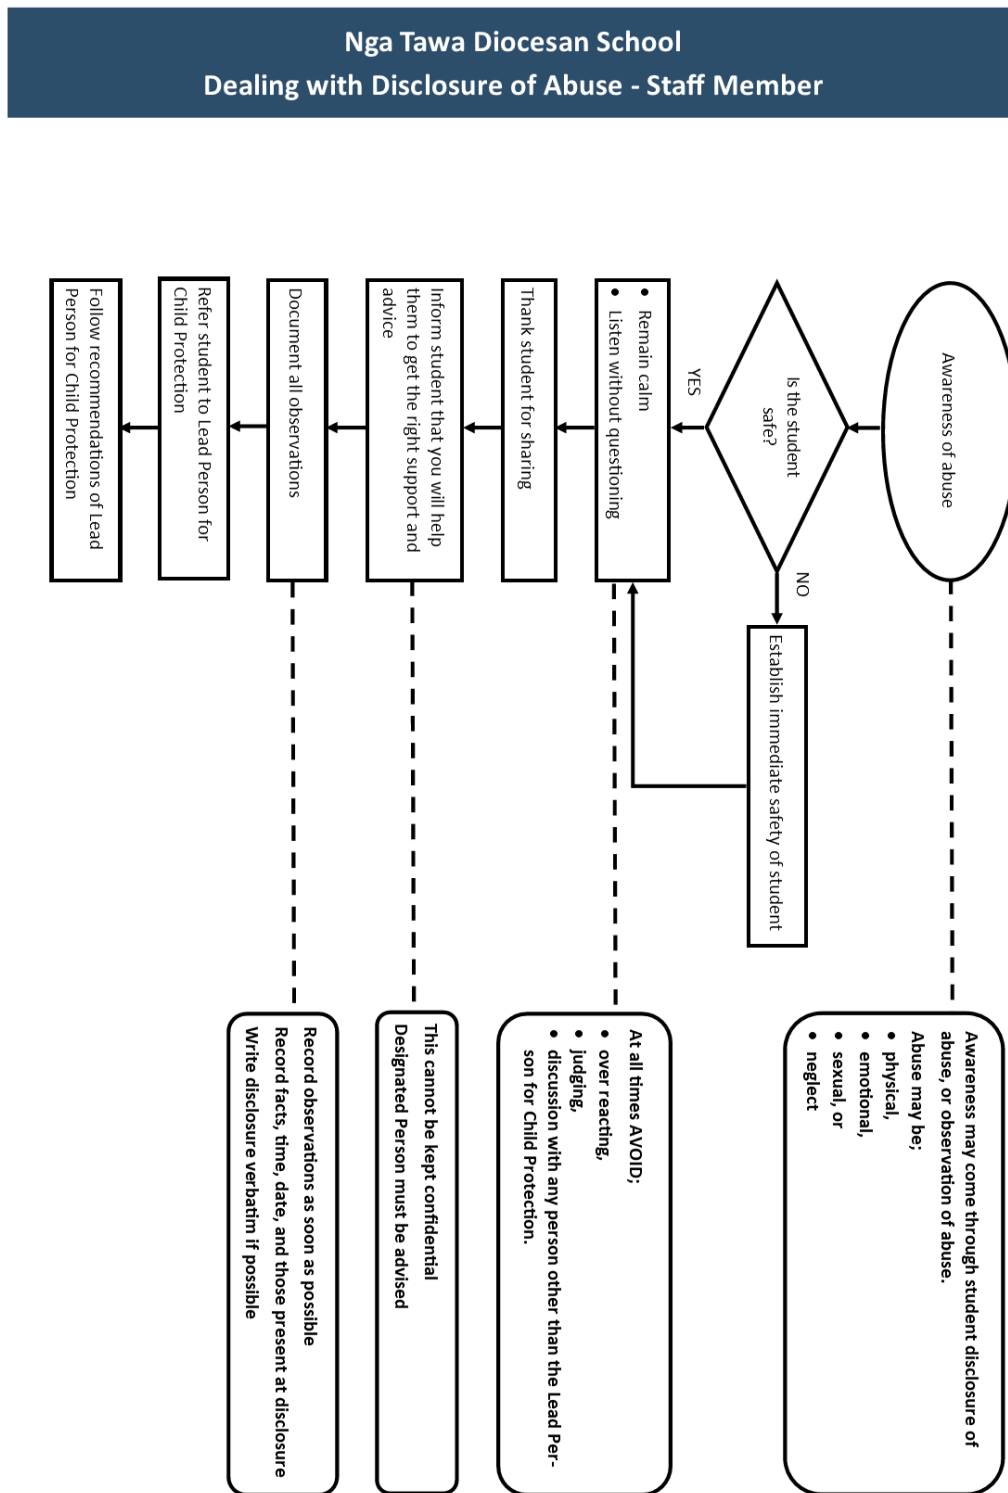

The Child Protection Policy and associated process and guidelines will be reviewed every three years at a minimum, or when necessary, including after a significant event or in line with changes in legislation and associated policies.

Appendix Two: Indicators of Abuse

The indicators for child abuse and neglect fall into three general categories:

Physical indicators: Injuries to a child that are severe, occur in a pattern or occur frequently. These injuries range from bruises to broken bones to burns or unusual lacerations and are often unexplained or inconsistent with the explanation given.

Behavioural indicators: The child's actions, attitudes, and emotions can indicate the possibility of abuse or neglect. Behavioural indicators alone are much less reliable than physical indicators, as a child's behaviour may be the result of a variety of other problems or conditions. When observing changes in behaviour, look for the frequency and pattern of the new behaviour, as well as a child's age and stage of development. For example, it is normal for younger children to be wary of adults, as they may have been taught not to talk to strangers. Look for a combination of physical and behavioural indicators.

Caregiver indicators: Caregivers who abuse, neglect or exploit children are either unable or unwilling to provide care and protection in an appropriate way. Those who are unable to provide care and protection may be physically unable due to their own medical or health condition. They may be overly stressed, tired, or working under the influence of drugs or alcohol which limits their abilities. Caregivers who are unwilling to provide children with the appropriate level of care and protection are more aware that what they are doing is wrong but continue to act in that way. These caregivers may not view the child as someone who has feelings and emotions and often have the need to control others or have displaced aggression towards weaker persons.

The indicators alone do not prove child abuse or neglect. Likewise, the absence of indicators does not exclude the possibility that abuse is occurring. If you have any concerns about the wellbeing of a child or young persons, seek advice from your Designated Person for Child Protection, Principal or Oranga Tamariki.
